

Assoziations-Blaster!*

* German for »Associativity-O-Blast« [\[Deutsche Version\]](#)

»Blowing Your Mind Was Yesterday!«

The Assoziations-Blaster is an interactive text network. Anyone, including you, is allowed to contribute to the text database. And all the texts inside this database are connected automatically in real time.

You can not browse through all the texts in a linear way. Instead you jump from one text to another depending on their connections, revealing new meanings and associations.

The information in the database is organized through keywords. Every text belongs to a keyword, and the keywords create the connections between the texts. You are also allowed to create new keywords after certain intervals. So with your contribution you can help to build up a non-linear map of all things that exist.

New here? For a quick overview of this project read our Introduction!

Start blasting with ...

... Topical, Bound, Toaster, Nutcracker or Scribbling

... with the latest entry or a random keyword.

... with this keyword:

OK

Personal Configuration

Set up your individual quality filter

Statistics

Detailed statistics on the Blaster's usage, the user's writing activity and search engine traffic

Web-Blaster

Modify any page in the web or use our bookmarks

Discussion Forum

A linear discussion forum to talk about the Blaster and the contributions

Frequently asked questions

Details on how the Blaster works and how it might be used

Impressum

For german lawyers - required by german law

You are against censorship? Support our Anti-Censorship-Project.

